Bartender/Bar Manager

As a skilled bartender and proactive bar manager, I bring a unique set of attributes to the world of coding and development. Over the past four years, I have cultivated a strong foundation in problem-solving, multitasking, and adaptability—all crucial skills in both the fast-paced atmosphere of a bar and the dynamic field of coding. My experience in managing the intricacies of a bar, from optimizing workflows to overseeing inventory, has equipped me with a keen analytical mindset and an eye for efficiency alongside great communication skills with people from every walk of life.

Leasehand

As a leasehand in the oil and gas drilling industry, I have honed invaluable skills in attention to detail, and adherence to stringent safety protocols. This background, coupled with my passion for technology, has driven me to pivot towards a career in software development. In my drilling role, I gained hands-on experience in optimizing processes and troubleshooting complex machinery, translating seamlessly into the logical mindset required for software development

More about me

- My lasting interest in the intricate world of technology and coding has been a constant thread throughout my life. This curiosity has been shaped not only by my love for immersive gaming experiences but also by my hands-on exploration as a car tinkerer at home. The allure of understanding how things work, whether it's the intricacies of code or the inner workings of a finely-tuned engine, has been a driving force for me.

Upon completing high school, I embarked on a journey into higher education, enrolling in university studies to delve deeper into the realms of technology. However, fueled by an insatiable curiosity about the world and a desire to gain firsthand experiences, I found myself unable to resist the allure of adventure.
